Can you provide examples of where you get the most value from RIG meetings?

(1/2)

- Discussion of issues and proposed solutions from a wider and expert group that we otherwise don’t have access to - data cleanse updates helpful for the wider business and staying informed.
- General awareness. Data cleanse updates. And it's a reminder on where to focus when there's a lot going on.
- General awareness
- Data Cleanse updates are the current area I get most value from these meetings.
- -New Issues raised -Adhoc issues raised -Change proposal -Group discussion and feedback
- Most value from general awareness
- Discussion around Issues, hearing how different parties address issues and what solutions people are for/against and why
- Allows good wide party debate on topics

so drawing on a wide experience base.

- Discussions at attending the meetings but also from the post meeting notes
- Discussions of problems impacting multiple suppliers
- Different perspectives on changes
- When performance assurance updates are provided. It has been really useful to understand how Data Cleanse work is going, and what I can feedback to our operational teams.

Can you provide examples of where the RIG meetings could change to provide you with more value?

- Provide slides/meeting materials ahead of the meeting so we know who can attend.
- Nothing springs to mind
- Topical presentations based on issues from across industry
- Wider attendee list.
- More detailed agenda to understand if (for example) 'Performance Assurance Update' will impact my party or not.
- No
- Might be useful to explicitly say which party information is most relevant too. But not a necessity.
