OVERVIEW

During the quality checks of REC Schedules for MHHS, several capitalised terms throughout schedules were identified with no entry in Schedule 1 – Interpretations and Definitions. It has also been identified that there are definitions that link to Schedules (such as 2, 20 and 21) which are no longer live REC Schedules. The Code Manager has reviewed these and determined some changes are required to Schedule 1.

CODE MANAGER RECOMMENDATION

The Code Manager recommends that the REC Change Panel:

- APPROVE the proposed change solution;
- APPROVE the proposed implementation approach; and
- APPROVE the proposed implementation date of 26 June 2026.

BACKGROUND

1 SUMMARY

During the quality checks of REC Schedules for MHHS, several capitalised terms throughout schedules were identified with no entry in Schedule 1 – Interpretations and Definitions. It has been determined these should be added to Schedule 1.

Additionally, REC Schedule 2, otherwise known as the Transition Schedule, is no longer part of the REC. However, several defined terms Schedule 1 – Interpretations and Definitions are still defined by a definition stating "means as described in the Transition Schedule". These are to be reviewed to see if they need to be removed, or their definition updated. This also applies to some definitions which reference the MRA Transition Schedule (Schedule 21) and the SPAA Transition Schedule (Schedule 20).

2 PROBLEM STATEMENT

Without clear definitions of all defined terms within the REC, there may be confusion for REC Parties and other industry participants who use REC documents.

SOLUTION

7 PROPOSED SOLUTION

This Change Proposal suggests amendments to the REC Main Body, Schedule 1 Interpretations and Definitions, and Schedule 25 Central Switching Service. All of the below changes have been reviewed by the REC legal advisors.

The proposed changes to the REC Main Body are:

> 2.5 Other organisations cannot become a Party, but:
>
> (a) Energy Suppliers should note their responsibilities in respect of Shippers, Supplier Agents and Meter Asset Providers under and in relation to ~~the Transition Schedule~~this Code, as described in Paragraph 2 of the Interpretations and Definitions Schedule; and
>
> (b) some organisations which are not Parties are able to obtain access to REC Services by entering into an Access Agreement, as further described in the Qualification and Maintenance Schedule.

The proposed changes to Schedule 25 Central Switching Service are:

> 2.3. For clarity, a single entity is assigned to each of the following roles (and therefore this REC Schedule does not deal with new applications to those roles): Gas Retail Data Agent, Electricity Enquiry Service Provider, Gas Enquiry Service Provider, Code Manager and Smart Meter Data Service Provider. ~~These entities will have obtained certificates and completed testing prior to the CSS Go-Live Date under the Transition Schedule.~~

The proposed changes to Schedule 1 Interpretations and Definitions are:

> 2.4. With the exception of Metering Equipment Managers, Supplier Agents, Meter Asset Providers and Shippers are not obliged to become Parties under this Code, but do have a role in respect of ~~the Transition Schedule~~this Code. Where this Code places an obligation on one or more Supplier Agents (other than Metering Equipment Managers), Meter Asset Providers or Shippers ~~under or in relation to the Transition Schedule~~, then:
>
> (a) in the case of obligations which apply by reference to a particular RMP, the Registered Supplier for that RMP shall ensure that the Shipper, Supplier Agents and Meter Asset Provider registered in respect of that RMP perform those obligations; and
>
> (b) in the case of obligations which apply without reference to a particular RMP, each Energy Supplier shall ensure that the Shippers, Supplier Agents and Meter Asset Providers registered in respect of any or all the RMPs for which the Energy Supplier is the Registered Supplier at the relevant time perform those obligations.
